

UNITED STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JOSHUA F. TULLY, of Boyle.
FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,
RICHARD T. YOUNG, of Oldham.
FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL,
JOHN M. HARRON, of Franklin.
FOR STATE TREASURER,
JAMES H. GARRETT, of Clay.
FOR AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS,
THOMAS S. PAGE, of Franklin.
FOR REGISTER OF LAND OFFICE,
JAMES A. DAWSON, of Hart.
FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, DANIEL STEVENSON, of Franklin.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE,
JAMES A. DAWSON, of Hart.
JOSHUA TULLY, of Boyle.
GEORGE D. COOPER,
HAMILTON H. COOPER,
RICHARD T. YOUNG, of Oldham.

Joshua Tull, Secretary, to whom all communications should be addressed.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1863.

SENATOR PRALL'S ADDRESS.—We take great pleasure in transferring to our columns this morning the address of the Hon. John A. Prall to his constituents in the 25th Senatorial District, composed of Bath, Bourbon, and Nicholas counties. The four years of his service have been marked in the history of the State by his unexampled devotion to the Union and its determination to adhere to the constitution of our fathers, and among the many champions of that holy cause no one has fought with greater gallantry, dear reason more vigorous blows, or resisted more effectively with his triple armor of a just cause the dastard blows aimed at the institutions of our country. Mr. Prall throughout his term in the Senate has been chairman of the Senate Committee on Federal Relations, which when he first occupied it was of minor importance, but as the war-cloud blackened and culminated over our State became of the utmost importance. In that position his clear judgement, his unwavering patriotism, and his invincible firmness have often excited our admiration and respect.

Mr. Prall was elected to the State Senate in 1861, and in the Presidential election of 1860 he was an ardent supporter, personal friend, and intimate associate of John C. Breckinridge's. When that worthy son of Kentucky took his arduous course and struck at the heart of his hope of success, Mr. Prall throughout his term in the Senate has been chairman of the Senate Committee on Federal Relations, which when he first occupied it was of minor importance, but as the war-cloud blackened and culminated over our State became of the utmost importance. In that position his clear judgement, his unwavering patriotism, and his invincible firmness have often excited our admiration and respect.

Mr. Prall's address is as follows:

"We are now, and shall

"declare the members of this 'Democratic' cabal, 'opposed to abolitionism in every guise,' who is still very excellent, being precisely the position of the Union party in Kentucky; but here, it is observed, the 'Democratic' cabal stop short, refusing to go further and declare that they are opposed in like manner to secession. This omission tells the whole story.

The whole story would have been told independent of the seizure of a gunboat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended for the service of the Confederates, is extremely gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action of the British Government shows a returning disposition, toward preserving a strict neutrality, which, with the London Sun, we regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended for the service of the Confederates, is extremely gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neutrality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

official effort was made to prevent her departure. The intelligence of the seizure of a gun-

boat, the Alexandria, built and lately launched at Liverpool, on suspicion that it is intended

for the service of the Confederates, is extremely

gratifying. The plans of the rebels may have been so crafty that proof cannot be adduced to show her destination, but the action

of the British Government shows a returning

disposition, toward preserving a strict neu-

trality, which, with the London Sun, we

regard as 'an exceedingly good omen.'

It will be seen in our telegraphic despatches

that another Anglo-rebel privateer, the Japan

while in port, but the Virginian when she

has escaped from Greenock, although some

Departure of Trains
Louisville, Raw Albany, and Cleve. L. R.
Chicago, 8:45 A. M.
C. & St. Louis Express—10:00 P. M.
Louisville, Frankfort, and Lexington R. I.
Express—12:30 P. M.
Lexington, Frankfort, and Louisville—12:30 P. M.
Louisville and Nashville Railroad—
Chicago, 7:30 A. M.
Fast Express for Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and St. Louis—2:45 P. M.
Fast Express for St. Louis, Cincinnati, and the East—10:00 P. M.

Contents of First and Fourth Pages
Book of the State of Indiana—A Lawyer's Manual—Remonstrances against Consolidation—Death from Poison—A Painter Killed—Rebel—The Murder of the Three Holes in Indiana—A Letter from a Soldier—A Soldier from the 28th Senatorial District—List of Soldiers who have Died in Hospitals at St. Louis from April 1 to 16—The Riot in Danville, Indiana—Official Laws of the State of Indiana—The Constitution—Regulations for the State of Indiana—The Tax—Letters from Stone's River, Tenn.—John Vortex Davis His Resignation—The Failure at Chattanooga in Its Bearings Abroad—Telegraphic News, &c.

Editorial—Yesterday was extremely dull in every thing pertaining to items of a local nature.

New Works.—We are indebted to A. Civil for the following new publications: Darel Markham; or the Captain of the Vulture, a story by Miss M. E. Bradford, author of Aurora Floyd, has been published by Dick & Fitzgerald, of New York.

The Prisoner of State. By D. A. Matheson; Harper's Pictorial History of the Great Rebellion, Nos. 1 and 2. We have already noticed the project of this great work. It has, we understand, been delayed for the purpose of obtaining a requisite supply of the proper kind of paper. All the promises of the eminent publishers have been faithfully carried out in these initial numbers.

Lulu.—A tale of the National Hall Poisoned, by Mansfield T. Walworth; published by Carlton, New York.

New Volcano in Mexico.—A letter from Mr. John Xantus, United States Consul at Mazatlan, dated Colonia, March 18th, and directed to the Smithsonian Institute, states that a new volcano broke forth the previous day only six leagues from the town. The eruption came so suddenly and was so violent that the Armeria river was filled up by a barde of ejected sand, mud, and stones to a height of over one hundred feet. The river of course was stopped from coming down, and it is said that north of the bridge the river is running back and inundating the forest for leagues. The volcano broke out in the top of a hill only about one hundred and fifty feet high above the level of the Armeria river, but was said to be growing alarmingly every hour. We are, as a matter of course, pleased to learn that our city could boast such mortality, and our readers will, doubtless, be equally gratified to read one issue of the Journal devoted to the usual record of crime. The calm that pervades our business circles renders the city extremely dull in its aspect. We can offer flattering inducements at the present time to any and all who have acquired a competency and may be on the qui vive for a good location, "shut out from the rude world," in which to return from business.

Five-Twenty Bonds.—The advertisement of Mr. J. H. Rborer will, we trust, attract attention, as he has been appointed to supply the six per cent Government bonds to all who desire to make investments on the faith of the nation. Any one having fifty dollars in Treasury notes can exchange them for coupon or registered bonds. In other parts of the country very heavy investments have been made in this favorite security. Mr. Rborer explains their value, and they will be paid in gold and the accruing interest will be discharged in coin likewise. Some of the Eastern agents for the supply of these bonds have furnished them to the amount of millions of dollars, which shows the public confidence in the stability of the Government. We hope Kentucky will show an equal reliance in the durability of our national name and credit.

The Revenue Tax Laws.—A hand-book of the United States Tax Law of July 1, 1862, with all the amendments up to the close of the 37th Congress, has been compiled from official sources by A. A. Redfield, Esq., of New York. It comprises, also, the decisions of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, together with copious notes and explanations for the use of tax-payers of every class and the officers of the revenue in all the States and Territories. We have looked over this work with particular care, and can make but one suggestion which we think would improve it, and that is the publication of forms to assist the tax-payer in making out his list or return to the Assistant Assessor of his District. The hand-book is for sale in our city by Maxwell & Co. and L. A. Civil, from whom we have received copies.

The rebel force which menaced Columbia, Adair county, the fore part of last week was increased to ten or twelve hundred men on Thursday, so that the two or three companies of Union cavalry were compelled to fall back. General Mansfield ordered reinforcements, but they were not within supporting distance on Thursday night, when there were frequent and sharp skirmishes as our troops retired in toward Lebanon. We have reports also of large additions of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

THE REVENGE TAX LAW.—A hand-book of the United States Tax Law of July 1, 1862, with all the amendments up to the close of the 37th Congress, has been compiled from official sources by A. A. Redfield, Esq., of New York. It comprises, also, the decisions of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, together with copious notes and explanations for the use of tax-payers of every class and the officers of the revenue in all the States and Territories. We have looked over this work with particular care, and can make but one suggestion which we think would improve it, and that is the publication of forms to assist the tax-payer in making out his list or return to the Assistant Assessor of his District. The hand-book is for sale in our city by Maxwell & Co. and L. A. Civil, from whom we have received copies.

The rebel force which menaced Columbia, Adair county, the fore part of last week was increased to ten or twelve hundred men on Thursday, so that the two or three companies of Union cavalry were compelled to fall back. General Mansfield ordered reinforcements, but they were not within supporting distance on Thursday night, when there were frequent and sharp skirmishes as our troops retired in toward Lebanon. We have reports also of large additions of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following transfers of real estate in this city and Jefferson county were made from the 1st to the 22nd of April:—

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—Two dollar bills altered to twenties were largely circulated in Philadelphia on Thursday. It is stated that the alterations were so successfully done that the closest examination was necessary to detect the fraud. Twenty-dollar Government bills should be closely inspected before they are taken. By holding the counterfeits before a strong light the alterations may be detected.

Quartermaster Webster has instructions from General Burnside to construct a bridge across the Licking river, near Cole's Garden, immediately. The bridge is intended to connect the fortifications at Covington and Newport.—The Sumpter—A Paris letter, under date of the 24th ult., states that the steamer Sumpter, which recently escaped from Gibraltar, was to sail from Liverpool on or about the 5th of April, armed and equipped as a privateer.

Mr. Herman Prall has purchased the interest of Mr. A. H. Hincklin in the New Albany tobacco manufacture, and, in connection with the Messrs. Bolin, of that city, will make a large addition of Confederates at Burkeville, but nothing definite as to the numbers or result.

Mr. Wastell's grand juvenile fancy dress ball, on Monday evening, judging from the notes of preparation, will be a delightful affair. We learn that milliners, mantua-makers, and costumers are busily engaged—up to their eyes in work—and that the Masonic Hall will look as gay and smart as the fairy court of Oberon when the wedding, Titania, and Puck, his henchman, became inspired by taking too much dew and honey out of the nest-edges of the cowslip.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

